

St Alban and the Rosy Cross Foundations of Freemasonry

An illustrated afternoon seminar in St Albans given by Peter Dawkins on St Alban and the Rosicrucian foundations of British Freemasonry, ancient and modern.

Sunday 24 June 2018

Afternoon seminar given by Peter Dawkins

During this seminar we will examine:

- the legends, history, mythology and secret knowledge associated with the 3rd/4th century martyr Saint Alban, and the 16th/17th century Viscount St Alban, Francis Bacon;
- why St Alban is known as the founder of British Freemasonry;
- why Francis Bacon was given the titular name of St Alban;
- why St Albans is the legendary birthplace of Freemasonry and Rosicrucianism;
- the meaning of the name Alban and the place St Albans in respect of the land of Britain;
- the Rosicrucian mystery and wisdom that underlies and completes Freemasonry.

Venue

St Michael's Parish Centre, St Michael's Street, St Albans, Herts, England.

Programme

14:30 – 17:30 (14:00 doors open)

Two talks with a break for refreshments

Cost

£25 per person, including refreshments

Further Information

Email: sarah@fbrt.org.uk.

Tel: 01295-678-623.

Booking

To book a place, please send a cheque (payable to 'FBRT') to:-

FBRT, Old Rick Barn, Mill Lane, Shenington, OX15 6NB.

N.B. Prior booking is required as places are limited.