

Zoence Mystery School Weekend Event

The Healing Power of Archetypal Patterns

How to help rebalance, heal and uplift the environment and oneself.

22-23 November 2025

led by Peter and Sarah Dawkins

Bonnington House, Jupiter Artland, Wilkieston, Edinburgh, Scotland

The weekend event will introduce participants to the key archetypal patterns within nature and ourselves, which are pivotal to creating and maintaining good health and harmony.

These patterns are not only creative but also life-enhancing. They rebalance, heal and uplift not only ourselves and our immediate environment, but also all forms of life in nature and the universe. They help us and all nature to evolve and develop an ever-greater intelligence and ability to accomplish greater things.

They are what are known traditionally as the forms of the supreme metaphysical laws of the universe. To use them is to use those supreme laws, but they can only be used in the right ways, which requires love and intelligence.

These patterns are archetypal and apply to all life, but to understand and know them can lead to insights into the more individual patterns that can heal our own personal imbalances and illnesses.

During this weekend we will also look at and experience something of the 'Grail Land' landscape temple, of which Bonnington/Jupiter Artland forms a key part of its brow chakra, and also the landscape zodiacs of Scotland, Ireland and Britain (England and Wales), with their ability to 'sound' the sacred Aum and connect with the light body of the planet.

We will share what we know about the importance of these natural energy forms in connection with the world's evolution, and offer suggestions as to how we can best help. In fact, just by participating in this weekend event we will be helping.
